Future United States President Gerald Ford earned a spot in the 1965 East-West Shrine Game in 1955 as a standout center from Michigan and recovered a fumble for the East squad in a 19-13 loss to the West.

Ford helped the Wolverines to a pair of national titles and was named the team's most valuable player in 1956. He went on to serve as an assistant coach at Yale before returning to Michigan to begin his political career.

President Ford was inducted into the inaugural East-West Shrine Game Hall of Fame in 2000.
